

注文の多い料理店

Page 2

1. Who are the main characters?

Two men from Tokyo. Not too old.

2. Why are they where they are?

They want to go and kill things in the forest. Specifically deer.

3. What is the setting? How does it change by the end of page 2?

The trees get thicker/more in number and the leaves are falling.

Page 4

4. They are upset because what happens? What makes them especially upset?

The dogs are suddenly dead. And its upsetting because they were expensive to buy

5. They decide to do what?

It's colder, they are hungry, their legs are tired from the walking, so they decide to go home.

Page 7

6. What happens to them?

They get lost.

7. What do they start to complain about?

They are hungry and want something to eat!

Page 8

8. What kind of food the does the restaurant advertise?

Western style food. Not traditional Japanese food

9. How do they feel about finding the restaurant?

They're happy – they think it's a bit weird to find a restaurant in the middle of the woods though.

Page 10-11

10. Why are they happy?

It was a rough day, they got lost, their dogs died, the guide disappeared so it's good to find such a place.

11. What do they wonder about as they come upon the first door?

They think this is a weird place, why are there so many doors?

12. After they read the yellow sign they think what about the restaurant?

They must get a lot of customers who order many many things.

13. How do they compare it to restaurants in Tokyo?

Even in Tokyo you'll find restaurants in quiet out of the way places.

Page 12-13

14. What 2 objects do they find at the next door?

A brush and mirror

15. Why do they think they have to use them?

Because this restaurant attracts a high quality of customer.

16. What happened to the one object when they put it back?

It disappears!

17. At the next door they are asked to leave what? Why do they think they have to do that?

They have to leave their guns because who needs them when you are eating?

Page 14-15

18. At the next door they are asked to do what?

They have to take off their hats, coats and their shoes...

19. Are they happy/pleased about doing this or resigned to it?

Not pleased but they feel that they have no choice.

20. The sign on the back gets them to do what?

Take off your glasses and tie—pins and leave them, and your wallet, on the table

21. What do they assume about leaving the restaurant at this point?

They will pay on the way out and collect their things then

Page 16-17

22. Then next item is there for what reason they assume?

It's cream – and you use it because when you are outside you get all red and cold and it will help that.

23. They apply it to what parts of their body?

Ears, face, hands and legs

24. At this point what are they wondering?

They are wondering a bit what is going on but really they just want to get in and start eating

Page 18-19

25. They are happy to learn what from the next sign?

They are almost to the food! It's only 15 minutes away! They can eat soon. Just put this perfume on your head.

26. They complain about what at this point?

It stinks! It's sour. It's vinegar!

27. What is the promise on the next door?

This is the last 'order' that they have to follow.

28. What is the last thing they have to do?

Rub salt on their bodies.

Page 20-21

29. They realize what at this point??

Um...they aren't going to eat...they are the food! The customers aren't the customers, they are what is on the menu!

30. What do they do next and what happens?

They tremble and quickly pull on the door but it won't open

31.They see what behind the door?

A large blue eye

Page 22-23

32.The voice they hear tells/asks them to do what?

“Aren’t you coming in????” Customer please come in (quickly). You are all prepared!You just have to climb onto this white plate....

33.The voice tells them not to do what?

Don’t cry....it will take all of the cream off of you!

Page 24

34.Suddenly what appears and from where?

The dogs appear from behind them!

35.How does the voice react?

The voice meows in a loud voice

Page 27

36.Where do they find themselves? What is there?

They are out in the forest. All of their things are strewn about. And their dogs are there. The guide also shows up.

37.What are their surroundings like?

The leaves are rustling, the grass is waving about (from wind) and the trees are swaying.

Page 28

38.How do they react to this situation?

OMG – we escaped! We’re okay! (they are relieved)

39.What do they do next?

They go back to Tokyo

40.What is the legacy of their adventure?

Their faces are wrinkled and creased (with fear) and they look like old men