

HAVE I GOT JAPANESE ENABLED???

ON A MAC - if the keyboard is installed you can see it on the top right of your screen

- CTRL+SHIFT+J switches you to Japanese/CTRL+SHIFT+L switches you back to English

ON A PC - if you have installed the keyboard look to the bottom right

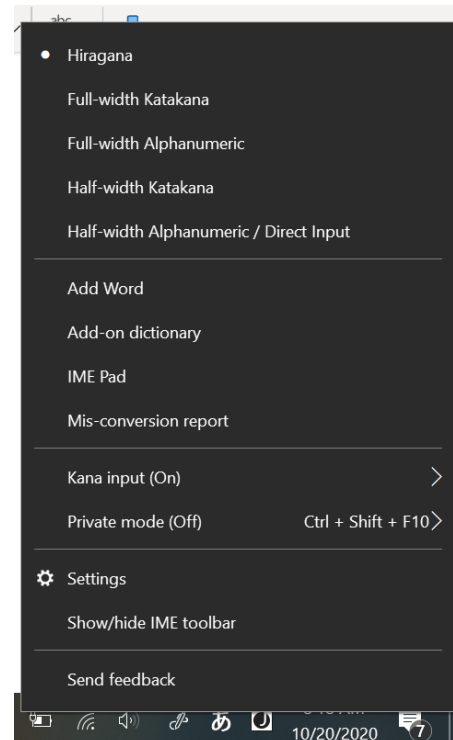

ALT +

Let's you switch quickly between English and Japanese input

Right-click to open IME options

Basically you type the sounds like they look on your chart.

WANT TO TYPE た?

On the chart it is 'ta' so type that!

きもの chi ち

TYPE MULTIPLE CHARACTERS?

たべもの ta+be+mo+no たべもの

WHAT ABOUT THE // OR ○?

Just type like it is on the chart!

おじいさん o+ji+sa+n おばあさん

WHAT ABOUT SOMETHING LIKE な WHAT DO I TYPE?

Look for it on the chart.

It's 'na' so type 'na' な na ni nu ne no

な に ぬ ね の

Don't type n+a as that gives you んあ な

“ん” type ‘nn’ ん

- Eg こんにちは ko+n+n+chi+ha

‘wa’ sound at end of word – type は ha-wa

- わたしは せんせいです。 Wa+ta+shi+ha
- こんにちは
- おなまえは？
- せんせいは バナナが すきです。

わたしわ わたしは

Combi sounds – here are some examples!

- しゃ type ‘sha’ sha しゃ しゃ

- にゅ type ‘nyu’

Small っ – type the first letter of the second sound twice...

- ごはんを たべます

ごはんは おいしい です。 ENTER

ADDING KANJI

When I type...there's a line under what I type...

何 そつぎょう 6人 六人 オタク

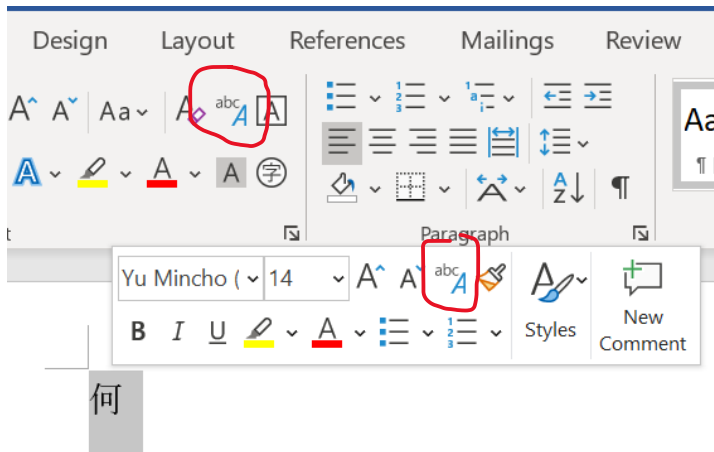

If you hit the space bar the program will suggest kanji for you!

Highlight the one you want and press the space bar again – and the kanji is there

This also works for Katakana!

Let's try

WORD ALSO GIVES YOU THE OPTION TO ADD HOW TO 'SAY' THE KANJI.

Warning – if you are using Google Docs – this option does not exist. And I'm not sure if it exists in Word ONLINE – only is in the program.

This is called the 'phonetic' guide and you have to enable it on your device.

- You do this a little differently on a PC or Mac.
- I have put a link on the Powerpoint for this
- How do I enable phonetic guide in Japanese on(name/type device) “Ruby Text”

ON A PC - You know you have enabled it when you see the little icon on your menu (or it pops up when you highlight the kanji. When you click on it - it suggests how to 'say' it.

ON A MAC – You also see an icon and it works about the same as on the PC

ろくにん
六人
