Yesterday was a day off. I couldn't go to school. So I got up late, ate something, played a lot of games etc. It was really fun. Although my mom said "Because you aren't going to school today, you are to clean your room etc." I didn't do that. Around 1pm I sent an email to my friend Kei. Kei loves to study and he wrote "Although today is a day off, I want to study, read a new textbook etc. Do you want to do that too Yuji?". But I wrote back "no way"! Why is Kei always reading book, studying etc? Today is Thursday and it's too bad because I must go to school. After school I want to again play games and listen to music. It' almost Saturday. (Saturday is right around the corner!)
